THE INSTITUTE OF COMPANY ACCOUNTANTS,

LIMITED, (BY GUARANTEE).
Holborn Chambers, Broad Street, Birmingham.

OBJECTS AND CONSTITUTION.

The Institute is a Body Corporate, Limited by Guarantee, founded for the purpose of advancing the interests of Accountants engaged in Industry, Commerce, Banking and Trade.

It is the purpose of the Institute to keep quite distinct the two professions of Public Accountant and Auditor and Company Accountant, and to confer upon the Company Accountant a definite Professional Status. Members use Qualifying Letters and a Professional Designation.

The Institute is the only Professional Society existing primarily and solely to advance the interests of Accountants in employment other than Public Practice as Accountants and Auditors, and thus satisfies a very vital need.

The Membership of the Institute includes a large proportion of the Accountants of the leading British Companies and Groups of Companies and, having regard to the number of important Companies and the Status of their Chief Accountants, it is inevitable that the Institute of Company Accountants must be one of the most important and influential of all the Professional Societies. It must be emphasized that this Institute is not an organization of Professional Accountants in Public Practice, and that its members are not allowed to use the fact of Membership as a qualification for the work of a Public Accountant.

ACTIVITIES, ADMISSION OF MEMBERS, DESIGNATIONS.

For a limited period only, Accountants or Assistant-Accountants of Companies, Banks and Corporations may be elected to Membership without Examination provided that their Qualifications and Status justify their admission. Immediately the Membership of the Institute has become thoroughly representative, Membership will be obtainable by Examination Qualifications only. The Membership now exceeds 1,100.

The Institute has prescribed Examinations as a Qualification for Membership, and the Examinations have been designed to maintain the highest professional standard. The Examinations are held in May and November each year.

Members are of two grades, Fellows and Associates. Fellows are entitled to use the distinctive letters "F.I.A.C.," and Associates the distinctive letters "A.I.A.C." Fellows and Associates both use the designation "Company Accountant (Inc.)." Certificates of Membership are issued.

The Institute represented the Company Accountant and Accountants engaged otherwise than in Public Practice as an Accountant and Auditor before the Departmental Committee of the Board of Trade on the Registration of Accountants, and the findings of the Committee were in accordance with its recommendations, so that the Institute's legal right to confer upon its Members its particular Designation and Qualifying Letters has been safeguarded.

Members of the Institute have rights under Section 137 of the Income Tax Act, 1918, of great importance to themselves and the Company of which they are the Accounting Officer.

The Institute issues quarterly an Official Journal, "The Company Accountant," which is the standard Journal for all Accountants engaged in Industry, and invariably contains features of National importance. It has a place on the bookstalls of the Country, and a most distinguished List of Contributors.

Publications dealing with the work, activities and problems peculiar to the Company Accountant are issued periodically.

A Lending Library Service is provided.

An Information Department and an Enquiry Service are conducted for the benefit of Members. The Institute has an Appointments Bureau and a Benevolent Fund.

Local Centres, in connection with which Meetings and Lectures are arranged, have been established. Public Functions, Lectures and Members Meetings are held regularly in London, The Midlands, Lancashire (Liverpool and Manchester), Yorkshire and Scotland. Meetings covering all the large centres of population are arranged from time to time.

APPLICATION FOR MEMBERSHIP AND FEES.

You are invited to make application for membership on the enclosed Form. It is in the highest interests of the Members of the Institute and of the Profession as a whole that the Institute shall attain its full growth at the earliest possible moment, and for this reason very special concessions will be made from the present date until further notice to Members admitted during the present year.

SPECIAL CONCESSION FOR 1932.

Until further notice, applicants for Fellowship may make a single payment of £4 14s. 6d., and applicants for Associateship a single payment of £3 13s. 6d. to cover all Entrance Fees and Subscriptions until the last day of December, 1932. This means that Members elected during 1932 receive a concession equivalent to £2 12s. 6d. in the case of Fellows, and £1 11s. 6d. in the case of Associates.

The normal Annual Subscription is Four Guineas for Fellows and Three Guineas for Associates, payable on the first day of January in each year.

All applications for Membership must be accompanied by the Fees prescribed above.

By Order of the Council,

LAWRANCE LUDFORD
ROBERT R. MASON
